

When the user applies for a "just work", the element will have the state "evaluating application". If he will not be accepted the state will be "reject", otherwise it will be "waiting for interview". When he will book the interview, the state will not change. After attending the interview, the state will be "waiting for result". If he will not be admitted The state will be "rejected", otherwise it will be "in progress". When the work experience will be ended and the company upload at least one feedback, the state will be "done".
