the user using the platform is probably used to similar applications (like LinkedIn, Miro, etc...) which are often used on smartphones, so he would probably be familiar with it.

A hand-drawn wireframe of a login form is centered on a grid background. The form is enclosed in a large vertical rectangle. Inside, there is an oval labeled "LOGO" at the top. Below it are two rectangular input fields, one labeled "Username" and the other "password". Underneath these fields is a button labeled "LOGIN". At the bottom left of the form area, there is a link labeled "Register here".
