

Just Work - learn by trying

- Simple task:
Applying to an event / session to experiment ≥ job for ≥ limited amount of time
- Moderate task:
Take part in a motivational interview after being considered for that event / session
- Complex task:
Ask for additional professional feedbacks from company
employees you worked with during the event / session

(states)

evaluating application: when user submits a "just work" application

rejected: if the application is unsuccessful waiting for interview: if the application is successful waiting for result: post-interview rejected: if the result of the interview is negative

in progress: if the result of the interview is positive done: upon completion of the work session, user has at least a feedback

uploaded from the company

In every page clicking on this this menu shows up:

The wireframe illustrates a user interface for a job search and profile management system.

Header: A logo icon is at the top left. To the right is a user profile section featuring a circular profile picture with a question mark icon, a circular icon with a person icon, and the name "Maria Rossi".

Search Bar: Below the header is a search bar with three input fields: "Title, skill, company", "City, state, remote", and a "SEARCH" button.

Job Listings: There are four job listing cards, each with a logo icon, a location label (e.g., "remote"), a job title ("Software Developer"), a brief description ("Have you ever wondered how is working as software developer..."), and a "Detail" button.

Notification Area: On the right side, there is a sidebar with a red box highlighting a notification message: "You've been accepted for ____! Click here to book the interview". Below it are sections for "Notification 2" and "Notification 3", and a status update: "St. engineering at Politecnico di Torino".

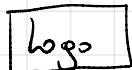

Upcoming Events: A section titled "Next event" shows details for an "interview" type event: "03 d | 13 h | 50m".

Profile Summary: A summary section titled "Your numbers" displays "Interviews: 10".

Footer: At the bottom center is a large red number "5", and at the bottom right is a red number "6" with a red arrow pointing towards the "You've been accepted" notification.
